RE: Troy Market Robbery

Due to an error in the initial report, inaccurate information was disseminated last night; my apologies. This is an update on the robbery that took place in Troy, Idaho, at 19:01, on 2 April 2006.

At about 19:01 on 2 April 2006, the Latah County Sheriff's Office received a call from a female employee at the Troy Market (339 S. Main Street, Troy, Idaho) reporting that she'd just been robbed. The woman reported that she was closing the store when two males entered the building wearing dark colored hooded sweatshirts and either ski-masks or scarves covering their faces (so she could only see their eyes). She said one was about 5'10", 160 lbs, and that the other seemed to be about 5'6" (no weight estimation given). The men ordered her to lock the front door, which she did. They instructed her to open the cash registers and to give them the money. They also asked for keys to the backdoors, which she gave them as well. She woman said the males had their hands in their pockets, so she was so she was unsure as to whether they had weapons. The men took the money and some cigarettes from the store and ran out the back of the store through the alley. Latah County Deputies and the Troy Chief of Police investigated the scene and are still looking for information. If anyone has any information about the robbery, please contact the Latah County Sheriff's Office at (208) 882-2216.
